What energizes me?

Answers to these questions will help you identify your strengths and make decisions around the contributions you can make. Many people try to conform to jobs advertised in newspapers or other sources. However, employers today have many qualified candidates from whom to choose. You will be seriously considered for a position only if you demonstrate that you know who you are, what you can offer, and where you are going.

List Three Accomplishments or "Success Stories"

These are experiences that you are proud of and that make you feel energized as you recall them. Include your earliest memories. They can be anything from building a house to drawing a picture or running a race. It only matters how you feel about them. The standard to use in choosing items for this list is your own pride in feeling "I did that myself!"
